

Acceptance speech of Dr. Maria Cristina G. Bautista

Thank you for this honor. This is my first time submitting to a Philippine journal and to be recognised with this award is doubly rewarding.

This award would not have been possible without the colleagues listed as co-authors, as well as a few others.

This article is part of a single URC grant which saw a series of outputs, five in total (!), produced during pandemic times. Thank you to GSB for the support. Our research has shown that more needs to be done before our health system achieves some semblance of systems integration.
